POPE PIUS

Pleased Over Visit of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Farley.

Revives Questions of the Creation of Another American Cardinal.

Speculation as to Appointment of Bishop O'Connell as Coadjutor.

YOUNGEST DAUGHTER OF CHURCH

The New York Times' Rome correspondent cables that the Pope much appreciates the delicate thought of Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Farley, who having accepted an invitation to be present at the Eucharistic Congress in London next September, will first visit Rome to pay homage to the head of Catholicism. Their visit to the Vatican is the greater compliment because of the intense summer heat, from which Cardinal Gibbons suffered once before during the convalescence which followed his election as Pope. The Pope is reported to have exclaimed: "There is no doubt that Americans have the gift of tact to a degree unknown to other nationalities."

Those who heard the remark thought that they understood the Pontiff to be alluding to another high prelate who is also coming to London to the congress, but who had not thought of first stopping in Rome, although it may be said to be on his way.

The prospective contemporaneous presence here of the highest dignity of the American Catholic church and of the Archbishop of the most important diocese in the United States, the latter of whom will come after a most imposing celebration known as the New York centennial, and bring the largest offering ever collected in a single diocese, has revived the question of the possibility of the Pope tangibly showing his appreciation by creating another American Cardinal at the next Consistory. It is scarcely necessary to say that if such a decision is taken, Archbishop Farley would probably be chosen. The presence of Cardinal Gibbons in September will be especially timely because his advice will be extremely useful in the work of establishing the rules and details for the passage of the American Catholic church from the jurisdiction of the Propaganda to that of the Secretary of State. It also means that Cardinal Gibbons wishes to have the Holy See agree not only to the appointment of Bishop Dennis O'Connell, of Washington, as his auxiliary Bishop, but to his becoming his coadjutor, in which case Bishop O'Connell would be assured of the succession to Cardinal Gibbons, not to the Cardinalate, but to the See of Baltimore.

On receiving the American College delegation, headed by the Rector, Bishop Thomas Kennedy, of Philadelphia, the Pope delivered an address which is one of the most important speeches ever made by the present Pontiff regarding the United States and the conditions of Catholicism there. Bishop Kennedy presented the Pope with the offering of $1,000 collected entirely among the students, and which, with the contributions of the Rector, greatly exceeded in amount any money gift ever made by other foreign colleges. Bishop Kennedy pointed out that America, although the youngest among Catholic countries, is as loyal as the most ancient. Pius X. delivered an address which was taken down in shorthand, and of which follows the most important points: "I wish to thank you for the excellent Rector and for the gift you have made me, but above all for the assurance of your presence, which I prize above everything else. The presence of so many young students from far-off America brings joy to my heart and is a source of great pleasure and satisfaction to me. It is true that you are representatives of the youngest daughter of the church. Yet every father has his Benjamin for whom he cherishes the warmest affection. Without diminishing in the slightest my high regard for many other national colleges in Rome, I have special love and admiration for you. For you are truly my Benjamins."

"May the copious blessings of heaven descend upon you and your beloved country—so rich in the promise for the future of Catholicism and which manifests so much devotion and loyalty toward the Apostolic See—upon your Bishops, who are displaying so much zeal and activity in the construction and ornamentation of splendid churches and Cathedrals, and providing in such a marvelous way for the education of the young by increasing the parochial schools; upon your clergy, which is laboring so earnestly for the spread of the faith and is reaping such a plentiful harvest of conversions to the one true fold; upon your magnificent body of Catholic laity, whose generosity, now famous, has made possible such a flourishing state of Catholicity in your own noble country; upon your families, whose hopes are centered in you; upon your beloved Rector, who is spending so much care and anxiety upon your training and who has brought you and your college up to such a degree of efficiency that it is a model for all."

GRAPHIC PICTURE

Of Oregon From Former Citizen Now in Kentucky Home.

Michael Doyle, a former resident of Louisville, but who has been a resident of Portland, Ore., for the last twenty-six years, returned this week to pay a visit to his brothers and other relatives still residing here. Mr. Doyle is not a Rip Van Winkle. He has been absent but not asleep. He left here a journeyman moulder, and he has returned on a visit as the proprietor of a foundry in Portland. He is loud in his praise of the climate, the climate and the people in that "land of opportunity," Oregon. Mr. Doyle is a veteran Hibernian, and came East to represent the Hibernians of his State at Indianapolis, and to urge the delegates to select Portland as the site for the national convention in 1910. He brought pictures, data and convincing arguments to the Hibernian club, and the result was that Portland had a walkover.

At the close of the convention Mr. Doyle came to Louisville to visit his brothers and other relatives. In conversation with a representative of the Kentucky Irish American he said: "Irish immigrants are too prone to bug the Atlantic coast. They loathe in the large cities too much. In the far West, particularly the Northwest, there is a fine future for them, or in fact for anyone that is willing to work and who is ambitious. There are opportunities in Oregon for all and the time to take advantage of them is now."

Mr. Doyle was an employee of the Baxter-Fischer Steam Foundry when he left Louisville twenty-six years ago. He now owns his own foundry and employs a large force of men. His brothers still residing in Louisville are Edward, James, Walter, William and Daniel Doyle.

"When the Hibernian delegates and the Ladies' Auxiliary come to Portland two years hence," said Mr. Doyle, "they will have the time of their lives. Our people out there do things in great shape, and none will be home dissatisfied. The Portland Convention Club has already pledged $5,000 for the reception and entertainment of the delegates, and other commercial bodies will raise a fund of $20,000 additional. The Oregon people are public spirited. Portland is the gateway to the Willamette valley, the largest tract of land 375 miles long. That part of the State is unsurpassed for scenery and has been styled the Ireland of America. It has the same scenery, the same climate, but the land is declared to be the most fertile in the world."

Mr. Doyle expects to leave for home during the latter part of next week.

FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Villier to Celebrate Jubilee Monday.

Next Monday Mr. and Mrs. Paul Villier, two of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the western section of the city, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. Mass will be offered by Rev. J. J. Coniff at the church of St. Francis at which church they were married August 3, 1858, by the Rev. Father Vital.

Mr. Villier was born July 25, 1832, at what is now known as Thirty-fifth and Ruddle avenue, but what was then Market street in the town of Portland, and he bears the distinction of being the oldest living resident of that place. Mrs. Villier was born June 6, 1834, in Belgium, but with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collignon, came to this country when she was quite young. Although in her seventy-fifth year she seems to be in the prime of life, and with her husband, who is also in good health, gives promise of living many years to come.

The worthy couple have lived a happy and useful life, and the happy occasion will be celebrated Monday with friends to congratulate them.

GRAND TIME

In Store For Those Who Attend Clifton's Lawn Fete.

The kindly disposed people of Clifton and Crescent Hill have arranged to give a lawn fete for the benefit of St. Francis of Rome church on the church grounds on the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, August 11 and 12. Whenever Father White's parishioners undertake an enterprise of any kind for the benefit of his church his friends from all parts of the city hasten to rally to his support. It is believed that this time the crowds will surpass all others. The Crescent Hill cars pass in front of the church lawn, and the East Market and Frankfort avenue carry carriages and foot passengers within a few blocks of the grounds.

The chairman of the various committees that have the affair in charge are Joseph D. Baldez, Elmore Sherman, Peter J. Heine, George F. Martin, Mrs. Ed Mueller, Mrs. C. Kessack and Miss Julia Holloran.

WAITS FOR OUR FLEET.

Cardinal Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, Australia, has notified the Vatican that he would delay his visit to Europe, as he wished to be in Sydney when the American squadron arrived there. The Cardinal expects to reach London in time for the Eucharistic Congress in September and afterward he will proceed to Rome.

ENTANGLING ALLIANCES TABOOED.

Ancient Order of Hibernians Adopt Resolutions That Speak Well For the Wisdom of the Delegates Attending the National Convention.

Splendid Sets of Officers Elected For Both Big Bodies. Kentuckians Bounteous In Praise of All They Saw and Heard.

The national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the year 1908 was in many respects the greatest assembly in the history of the order. Although the work of the convention did not begin until Tuesday and closed Friday night, the delegates were entertained at various functions as early as the Sunday prior to the convention, July 19, and some were not allowed to get away before evening of the following Sunday, so hospitable were their hosts. The main thing of interest, both for the Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary was the election of officers. Next in order was the selection of a site for the next convention. Both elections were held Friday and resulted as follows:

President—Matthew Cummings, of Boston.

Vice President—James J. Regan, of St. Paul.

Secretary—John T. McGintis, of Scranton.

Treasurer—John F. Quinn, of Joliet.

National Directors—The Rev. John D. Kennedy, Danbury, Conn.; John D. McCreary, New York; P. T. Moran, Washington; John J. O'Meara, Butte, Mont.; C. J. Foy, Montreal, Canada.

The following national officers were chosen for the Ladies' Auxiliary:

President—Miss Anna C. Malia, of Scranton, Pa.

Vice President—Mrs. Mary McCarthy, of Massachusetts.

Secretary—Mrs. Louise Du Ross, of Clinton, N. Y.

Treasurer—Mrs. Mary Daly, of St. Paul, Minn.

Directors—Mrs. Mary McWhorter, of Chicago; Miss Mollie Fox, of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The last two mentioned are an addition to the old board of four, which was re-elected.

Both the Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary visited Portland, Ore., as the place of the next biennial convention.

No Kentuckians were elected to national offices by either organization, but the Kentuckians were honored in many ways while the convention was in session. State President George J. Butler, John M. Mulloy, President of Division I, who represented the Jefferson County Board in the absence of County President John A. Murphy, and Martin J. Cusick, who were leaders of the Kentucky delegation, are lauded in their praise of all they saw and heard in Indianapolis. They praise the people of the city; praise the decorations, the hospitality, the arrangements, the work of the Indianapolis committees and the work of the convention as a whole.

The Louisville delegation was considered the finest in the parade and in the national convention hall. State President Butler says the parade was the finest he ever saw, and that the decorations surpassed those of Louisville when the G. A. R. and the Knights Templars were in the city. Messrs. Butler, Mulloy and Cusick led the parade on the opening day of the convention. The work of the national body was harmonious from beginning to end, and what was accomplished will reflect great credit on the order.

Miss Mary Corcoran, of this city, State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, is even more enthusiastic than the local Hibernians over what she saw and heard at Indianapolis. "It was an education in itself," she said, "just to be there and to meet the Irish women from all parts of the United States. Every State in the Union was represented except Delaware, Mississippi and Tennessee. Miss Anna Malia, the National President, is a queen among women. She is dignified, cultured, intensely Irish and womanly. The women speakers were all good, too, and the delegates worked hard. Several nights it was 8:30 to 9 o'clock before we got any supper, and Saturday we were too tired to come home. We rested, and Sunday we attended mass and in the afternoon took a ride around the city."

"There was nothing too good for the Kentucky ladies, and in the parade our banners were cheered wherever we went. We had music every night. Irish songs predominated. 'God Save Ireland' and 'The Wexford of the Green' were most popular, but we always sang 'The Star Spangled Banner' and 'Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean' before we closed."

"What did the Ladies' Auxiliary do? We worked hard. It would take a month to tell you what we did. In brief we decided to affiliate with the Catholic Federation; we donated $250 to the support of the Gaelic League in Ireland; we voted a sum necessary to erect an altar to the memory of the late Father Quick, State president, his mother, and his wife; we decided to erect a monument to the Irish martyrs, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien. After the execution of these men Father Quick came to the United States and until his death was a missionary in South Dakota. A church is being built in that section in his honor. LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, AUGUST 1, 1908.

DESERVE COMMENDATION.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians has again demonstrated that it is living up to the purposes for which that great society was established—the unity of the Irish people at home and abroad, friendship and true Christian charity. Each of these principles was upheld at the national convention in Indianapolis last week, and without being at all discourteous the delegates gave outside societies and individuals to understand the A. O. H. was capable of taking care of its own business.

The movement to aid in the work of church extension is a commendable one, but one that could not but be expected from a body of Irish Catholics. The bones of their kinsmen hallow the soil of America from Newfoundland to the Gulf and from Cape Cod to the Golden Gate. Wherever the Hibernians go the churches follow. The church, be it ever so humble, is dear to the hearts of sons and daughters of Erin.

The delegates also chose a splendid set of national officers and directors, and while some of the contests were spirited there was no acrimony after the voting was over. The selection of Portland, Ore., as the place for the next convention was also a commendable one. A trip to that "land of opportunity" two years hence will give the Irish men and women of America a broader view of this glorious land. It will make them acquainted with their brethren in the West and Northwest, and it will bring the Hibernians of that section into closer touch with their friends in the East.

Last but by no means least the Ladies' Auxiliary deserve commendation for the work done by their national convention and for the excellent selections made in naming national officers.

ROOM TO FLOP.

The Hon. William H. Taft has been made aware formally that he is the nominee of the Republican party as its candidate for the Presidency. Judge Taft journeyed from Virginia to Cincinnati to await the arrival of the notification committee, and on Tuesday heard the speaker of that body announce the honor that had been accorded him. He received the news in a dignified manner and betrayed no excitement. He did not even deign to say "This is so sudden."

It had been given out that Judge Taft's speech would deal only with important questions and would be limited to a maximum of 2,500 words. Instead it took more than 12,000 words for Judge Taft to tell why he would accept the Republican nomination. If he were not aware until Tuesday that he had been nominated in Chicago more than a month ago, he certainly did not display ignorance regarding the National Republican platform. He analyzed it from stem to stern. He praised it and enjoyed that feature. He did not hesitate to voice the opinion that labor had the right to organize unions, but at the same time he upheld the right of the judiciary to govern by injunction. He touched upon the Panama canal, the Philippines, the tariff and the navy, the trusts and the railroads. But how? It sounded nice and plausible to those who heard the speech. It even reads well. It will make an admirable High School oration. And after that? What is there in it?

Does William Howard Taft come out strong on any one plank of the Republican platform? Even in upholding the administration of President Roosevelt, does he emphatically say that he will carry out any particular one of the Rooseveltian policies? He does not.

Taft's speech of acceptance reminds one of a cat running along a fence and casting an eye on each side, so that in case of a return trip he may pick out the nice places to fall on either side. Mr. Taft promises nothing to labor, nothing in the way of tariff reform, takes a little chuck at trusts, but not enough to hurt. It was the speech of a diplomat rather than of a statesman.

MITCHELL ON PLATFORM.

John Mitchell, former President of the United Mine Workers of America, was at the national convention of the A. O. H. in Indianapolis.

The Democratic platform were written by the American Federation of Labor Executive Board and were incorporated into the platform word for word. In addition to that the Denver platform is clear on the eight-hour day and other demands of organized labor. President Gompers stated after the Chicago convention that the Republican platform was not satisfactory to organized labor. It is predicted that Mr. Mitchell will take an active part in the campaign, delivering speeches for the Democrats in the centers of population and making visitations to those sections where thousands of voters work underneath the ground.

WELL SAID.

Catholics generally deplore the mixing of religion with politics, and believe the True Voice of Omaha entirely correct in the position taken in the following editorial statement: "Some of our Catholic papers are trying to bring the 'religion' question into prominence in connection with the coming Presidential campaign. We are not at all inclined to criticize our Catholic contemporaries, but we would suggest that the question be laid aside for the present. It seldom does much good to raise religious difficulties in political campaigns and often does much harm. Neither Bryan nor Taft is a Catholic, but we believe both of them to be honest men, who will not stand for religious intolerance. Such being the case, we submit that our Catholic papers should fight the political battle on their merits as citizens and as statesmen."

SITUATION IN NEW YORK.

Conditions in the State of New York are not only fair but favorable to the Democrats. Gov. Hughes wants to run again, and has so expressed himself. He stands by the policies that have made him obnoxious. The leaders of his party, men like Woodruff, Hendricks and Barnes, are opposing his candidacy. They are quietly tipping it off to their friends that Hughes can not be re-elected. They declare that his policies and his attitude toward his own party have offended so many Republicans that the party vote in the State would be materially cut were he renominated.

The Republican leaders opposed to Hughes are using still another argument. They contend that the renomination of the Governor would thoroughly unite the Democratic forces in the State and result in a much harder fight being put up against the Republicans than would otherwise be made. They say that the Democrats have such an opinion of the Governor that the followers of McCreary and McClellan in New York City would join with the Murphy-Conners people, and that the home rule crowd up the State who have been outside the fold since the Utica conference would come in with the rest.

Every other State is watching New York with interest. The result will have no influence on the Solid South, but there are States in the Middle West that are apt to follow New York's lead on the question of policies to be pursued.

The Standard Oil Company continues to do business at the same old standards and at the same old prices. President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte to the contrary notwithstanding. The fine of $29,000,000 assessed by Judge Landis did not stick. In all probability it never will, and the Standard Oil Company will continue to receive rebates as formerly for aught any of us may know. The tariff of the United States actually protects this big corporation from competition. Otherwise we would be paying 50 per cent. less for oil.

The Louisville License Board gave one saloon a license provided the wife instead of the husband would stand behind the bar and conduct the business. It refused a license to another saloon because the husband was paralyzed and the wife was behind the bar taking care of business to support her husband, her children and herself. "Consistency thou art a jewel," said Shakespeare, but the License Board is not familiar with Shakespeare. If old Bill lived in these days, and a preacher would enter a remonstrance, he might have his poetic license revoked.

It is to be hoped that Americans and the end of that jingle, the sea." Those of the present have long British tactics, and had grown up that prated about the "mother country," the "Anglo-Saxon tongue," and "British fair play." It is all over now. The occurrences at the Olympic games have disgusted not only Americans but men of all civilized nations. The motto of the Britons is, "If we can't win, don't let the Americans win."

It now looks like bumper crops in the great West, but the farmers say this means a bumper need for help also. The demand for hands in the big wheatfields is by no means supplied. Herschel Jones, the Minneapolis expert, who has just finished a tour of Minnesota and the Dakotas, says he found the largest all-around crop in the history of the Northwest.

Of course, says the Catholic Union and Times, the winners of the London Olympic are Americans—but their names indicate they have just a strain of Irish blood in their veins.

MASS MEETINGS

To Choose Delegates to Select Congressional Nominee.

Next Saturday afternoon the Democratic hosts of Louisville and Jefferson county will assemble in the various Legislative districts to select delegates to the Fifth District Congressional convention, which will meet at the Seelbach on the following Monday. Each Legislative district will hold its own mass meeting, and the manner of selecting delegates will be in the time honored Democratic custom of every man voicing his sentiments for his own candidates.

On the following Monday the delegates elected Saturday will choose the Congressional candidate. The aspirants are Hon. Swager Sherry, the incumbent, and Hon. Herman D. Newcomb, a former member of the Legislature. Both are good men and each has a large following. Allied with the interest of Mr. Newcomb are those of Robert T. Burke, President of Meekin Council and a rising young lawyer, Edward J. Mackey, another young attorney of the West End, has cast his lot with Mr. Sherry, whose private secretary he has been during the past two years.

WILD CHEERS

When the Irish University Bill Passed House of Commons.

The Irish University bill was passed in the House of Commons last Saturday by a vote of 267 to 19. The Irish Nationalists took the lead in the cheering that followed. The bill passed its second reading on May 11. It will now go to the House of Lords, but in all probability will not meet with much opposition there. The central idea of the Irish University bill is to found, by royal charter, two new universities in Ireland, with headquarters in Dublin and Belfast. Dublin University is to be composed of three constituted branches, two of which, Cork and Galway, already exist. The third or new college will be founded in Dublin. The present Queen's College at Belfast is to constitute the proposed new Northern university, which probably will be called the University of Belfast.

The Catholic hierarchy of Ireland, while not approving the measure as a whole, accept it with the idea that half a loaf is better than no bread.

SUPPER, FETE, ECHIRE.

What promises to be one of the most enjoyable of this year's social affairs will be the lawn fete, supper and echire to be given at St. Ann's school, Seventh street, near Davies avenue, on Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 18. This is one of the baby school and parish of Louisville, and is under the charge of Rev. John Hill, who deserves the support and encouragement of the Catholics of the entire city. The good people of St. Ann's neighborhood are making every preparation for this affair and promise visitors a good supper and pleasant time. Tickets are now being sold and are only fifteen cents.

GROWING SERIOUS.

The publication of the Columbian, the official organ of the Knights of Columbus, has caused that order considerable trouble, and the consequences may become serious. Last week Dr. Thomas P. Hart, editor of the Catholic Telegraph, published at Cincinnati, and a leading Knight of the West, had this to say on the subject: "We have waited patiently for an explanation from the Board of Directors of their action in awarding the contract for the publication of the official organ to Mr. Toomey at a price of $40,000 above the lowest bidder, John P. Brynes, of Chicago. The explanation has come, but it does not explain. We are forced to conclude that politics or something worse is at the bottom of the award." Coming from such a source this is a rather startling charge.

PRESSMEN GET DECISION.

In an opinion important to labor, Judge Shackelford Miller last Saturday denied the injunction suit of the Globe Printing Company against the Printing Pressmen's Union of this city. He also denied application for injunction against sixty-six members of the union, but he granted it against four of the men, declaring that they violated the rules of the union itself for picketing and violence toward non-union men. The opinion makes the distinction, however, that "peaceful picketing" is permissible, and the Chancellor took exception in his opinion to the union's rule upon their rules in his regard as being sensible and within the law of the land. The suit for injunction was sought by the Globe Company March 27, 1908, after their premises had been struck by some persons.

They will return early next month to resume their studies at the Sacred Heart Academy, Crescent Hill, where they have been a school the past four years.

SORRY TO SEE THEM GO.

Guy E. Osterman left last night for Atlanta, Ga., where he will represent Humler & Nolan at the Hotel Kimball. Of that city as manager of the cigar stands. He will be joined by his wife the latter part of this month, as they intend to go to housekeeping there. Mr. Osterman will also have charge of his employers' interests at Chattanooga, Tenn. Although pleased at Mr. Osterman's good fortune, the many friends of this popular couple will be loath to see them go, but extend their best wishes for happiness and prosperity in their new home. A gathering of their friends and relatives gave them a farewell reception last evening.

VISITS FORMER HOME.

Sister Mary Agnes, a former Louisville girl, but for several years a member of the community of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, and now attached to the Peter's Orphan Asylum at Memphis, is visiting in Kentucky. After spending a week at St. Mary and Elizabeth hospital she left for the mother house at Nazareth on Thursday. While in Louisville she was the guest for a day of her mother, Mrs. Mary Mulloy, and her brother, James M. Mulloy, 2211 West Walnut street.

ARRANGING FOR CONVENTION.

Local committees are making extensive arrangements for the annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, which this year will be held at New Haven, Conn., opening August 11 and continuing four days. Headquarters will be at the New Haven House, and the business sessions will be held in the Hyperion Hotel. James F. Brennan and Michael J. Goode have been made Chairman and Secretary of the Arrangements Committee.

BISHOP PAUL RHODE.

Right Rev. Paul Rhode, the first Polish-speaking priest to be elevated to the American episcopate, made his first studies for the priesthood at St. Mary's College, this State. Bishop Rhode's consecration took place Wednesday at the Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago, and was followed by a banquet for 600 clergymen. Archbishop Quigley, Bishop Koudela and the new Bishop were among those who delivered addresses.

GRIEVED FOR WIFE.

The body of the man found in the Ohio river last Monday was identified as that of James T. Garvey, a well known resident of the West End. His wife died three months ago and grief over her death unsettled his mind. In this state he wandered away from home Saturday and was seen no more alive. Two young sons survive him, and have the sympathy of many friends in their double bereavement.

THIRTEEN YEARS OLD.

Weber Connell, Y. M. I. of Indianapolis, and the oldest council in that city, celebrated its thirteenth anniversary last Sunday night. The council was organized July 23, 1895, and was named in honor of the Rev. Father Joseph Weber, pastor of the Church of the Assumption. Ever since its organization Father Weber has been Treasurer of the council. After an enjoyable musical and literary programme an abundance of refreshments and cigars were dispensed.

BOYS' HOME.

It is proposed to spend $50,000 for the erection of a new building for the Chicago Working Boys' Home at Jackson boulevard and Center avenue. This is a project that has the support of Archbishop Quigley. In this home, notwithstanding the fact that it is a Catholic charity, creed or color is not considered as a factor in the matter eligibility of an applicant for help. The new building will be fireproof and have a capacity of 200 boys.

The Extraordinary Price Reductions Make Great Savings Possible.

The period of the season has arrived for all Summer Ready-to-Wear, when the room is more preferable than their presence. The stocks must be cleaned up and we know of no better way to accomplish this end than by a Sweeping Reduction of price throughout the entire Summer line. Every garment has been deeply cut in price and you will recognize at a glance that the one object is to make this Clearance complete, for the former price and actual value has been totally disregarded in this Great Clearance Sale.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Next comes the State conventions. Ours should be one of the best since the order was instituted in Kentucky. Thomas Keenan, Jr., and Charles Finegan added much strength to the Virginia delegation. They also did good service for Kentucky.

Light Rev. Bishop Ludden, New York, State Chaplain, was represented at the national convention by Father Dwyer, of Syracuse.

Two years ago the Ladies' Auxiliary national treasury was empty, but since administering their own affairs the women have it well filled.

No net of the National Board will give greater satisfaction than the re-appointment of Patrick J. Hattigan as editor of the National Hibernian.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night, when President Mulloy will report the proceedings of the national convention. Every member is requested to attend.

Wednesday night the hall of the Ladies' Auxiliary should be thronged to hear the reports of the State and County Presidents, who bring glad tidings from Indianapolis.

There will be something doing nearly every night next week, as there are four meetings. Members will relate a number of interesting experiences at Indianapolis.

Throughout the order there is sincere regret over the death of Owen Keiran, who for many years was one of the most faithful and capable members of the County Board.

The youngest State and county officers at the convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary were from Kentucky. It goes without saying that they were also the best looking.

Kentucky's handsome banners in the national parade were the cynosure of all eyes and were given tremendous applause by the thousands who lined the route of parade.

The united divisions of Detroit and vicinity will hold a monster field day at Bois Blanc next Thursday, the birthday of Daniel O'Connell, the Irish Liberator. Hereafter they will make this an annual event.

Division 3 will have a rousing meeting next Thursday night. This division sent a strong delegation to Indianapolis with State President George Butler, and their reports will cover every incident of the entire week.

Next Friday night Division 2 will elect a successor to the late Treasurer Owen Keiran. Quite an amount of business will be transacted that is of interest to the members, and President Ford therefore requests a full attendance.

Hibernianism has been making steady progress in London, Eng. Recently the first annual meeting was held, when announcement was made that the order "had the approval and support of the Parliamentary party and the leading men in Ireland."

The success of the Ladies' Auxiliary during the past two years has been phenomenal. While the membership increased 7,000 the assets now reach the astonishing total of $265,000. There is none who will argue that the ladies are incapable of managing their own finances.

State President George J. Butler, John M. Mulloy and Martin Cusick, attired in dress suits and wearing beavers, presented a striking appearance as they marched at the head of the big national parade, and right worthily did the Kentuckians bear the honors conferred on them by being assigned first place. On their staff were such well known men as John Hesslin, Judge Shline, D. J. Coleman, Thomas Keenan, Jr., Thomas Dignan, Charles Finegan, Michael McDermott, John Morris and members from all sections of the State.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Cecilian Choral Club to Present Another Opera.

The Cecilian Choral Club is now a permanent organization, and the prediction is made that it will soon take high place in the local musical world. This is the club that presented the opera "Maid" so creditably for the benefit of the Catholic Woman's Club last June. At a meeting held last week it was announced that nearly a hundred members were on the roll. After the organization had been perfected the following officers were elected:

President—William T. McEhan.
Vice President—John J. Crotty.
Secretary—Will Imorre.
Treasurer—David McInerney.

Prof. Leo Schmidt, to whom much credit is due for the fine work achieved, will continue as musical director, with John J. Flynn as stage manager and John Webb as assistant. Phil Hager was chosen as director of the dances and Miss Mollie Collins will again design the costumes. Rehearsals are held every Monday night, work having begun on the military opera, "El Capitán," by Sousa, which will be produced in November.

EXCELLENT VAUDEVILLE.

The new offerings for next week at Fontaine Ferry Park should keep the attendance at the "park beautiful" up to the season's highest average. There is an excellent vaudeville bill for Hopkins Pavilion, and a new soloist appears with Harry Cook and his band in the free concerts. Real park weather prevails now and for the crowds the crowd of national amusements besides the theater.

YOUNG MEN'S UNION.

The Catholic Young Men's National Union will hold its thirty-fourth annual convention at the Philadelphia on September 3, 4 and 5, 1908. The convention programme will include reports from the various dioceses and dioceses and committees in charge of the several special works, notably the athletic committee and committee on junior membership and most instructive papers by clergymen and laymen of national repute upon subjects of interest to

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

Members to the number of 2,500 attended the Ohio reunion held at Cedar Point Beach, near Sandusky. Pere Marquette Council appropriated $300 to furnish the library in the new residence of Archbishop Messmer at Milwaukee.

Committees from the two Milwaukee councils went to Chicago to escort Archbishop Messmer home on his return from his trip abroad.

Boston Chapter will celebrate Eucharistia day with an outing at Levee Beach on August 10, at which it is expected 10,000 will be present.

Monday night St. Louis Council conferred the third degree on a class of sixty. The work was conducted by the new State Deputy, Dr. R. Emmet Kane.

The Knights living in Le Mars, Iowa, are taking the preliminary steps toward the organization of a new council and the initiation of a large class some time during the coming fall.

Plans have been filed for the new club house which will be occupied by the Knights and the McGill Catholic Union at Richmond. The building will be three stories in height and is to cost about $30,000. The application for the permit was made by Bishop Van de Vyver, who presented the site, free of cost, to the two organizations.

ROUTINE AFFAIRS

Occupied Greater Part of Trinity Council's Last Session.

Trinity Council held an excellent business meeting Monday night, although there was little of importance transacted outside the ordinary routine. President James B. Kelly presided and urged the members to keep up their energy for the upbuilding of the council.

The death claim of Capt. Harry Bundschu was allowed. None of the members were reported on the sick list. Six applications were received and two members were initiated. Many members of the council signified their intention of attending the banquet at Jennings' Park in honor of the delegates to the Grand Council. It was determined to give an open air eucharistia and dance at Phoenix Hill Park on the evening of Thursday, August 27. Final contracts for work on the new club house were awarded and the Trinity boys expect to enter into possession of their new quarters not later than September 1.

WILL MAKE THEM HERE.

The winter uniforms for the local police department will be made in Louisville, the Board of Public Safety having awarded the contract to S. A. Milpp & Co., who furnished the summer uniforms. This firm's suits are of the best quality and make, and the award to a home firm and labor gives widespread satisfaction.

KOLLOS SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

Attention is called to the card in another column of this issue. Prof. Kollos is noted as a teacher of the piano and violin as well as a composer of music and conductor of bands and orchestras. Parents who desire their children to obtain a thorough musical instruction should communicate with Prof. Kollos at once.

GLOBES EXPAND.

In fitting on gas globes it is a common error to screw them too tightly. Room should be allowed for the expansion of the glass when it has become heated from the gas, otherwise a fracture is inevitable.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The victualers in Cork have increased the price of Irish beef and mutton one cent per pound.

Owing to the mills working for only short time thousands of workers are in a deplorable state in Belfast.

There are six extra police in Ballymore, County Sligo. Castleblainwin has also an addition to its force.

Spraying of the potato crop has been the order of the day. Scarce a farmer is to be found who does not now spray his potatoes.

The Archbishop of Tuam has appointed Rev. W. J. McHugh, of Tuam, as parish priest of Cunniver, in succession of the late Mark Eagleton.

Telephones have been installed in Mynyboro, Queens county, and the town is now in telephonic communication with Dublin and other cities.

The body of the man found drowned in Muckno lake proved to be that of Thomas Clarke, a Dublin coach wheelwright, aged sixty-three years.

By means of private subscriptions Very Rev. Canon Lyons, of Castlebar, is having an intermediate and technical school erected on a site given by the Earl of Luccan.

The great bent wave that passed over the country was the cause of numerous prostrations, and the violent storms that followed did much damage to property in many places.

A young laborer named Michael Twomey while bathing in Poultavee lake, some miles from Nenagh, became entangled in the weeds, and was plucked, rescued in an unconscious condition by a lad named John Slattery.

John Keough, ex-head Constable of the Irish Constabulary, died at his residence in Dundalk at the age of seventy-five. Since his retirement he had been in business at Seatown. For his widow and large family much sympathy is felt.

Patrick Breen, aged seventy-two, died at his residence in Castleblaney, death resulting from advanced age. He was a respectable and industrious resident of the town, and had been upward of sixty years living in the house on Main street in which he died.

The Fairy mount at Louth, a most interesting antiquity, is the subject of a suit commenced in which John Taffey, J. P., and John Byrne, of Louth, contest the ownership. Both own lands adjoining the mound and the question is in which holding it is included.

Patrick Gilmore, who was for many years a resident of Carrickmacross and enjoyed the friendship and respect of all who knew him, has passed to his eternal reward. His death at a comparatively early age came as a severe blow to his wife and young family.

While Patrick and Nicholas Green, of Ardee, were returning from the Drogheda market their way became unmanageable and dashed down a narrow lane, overturning the cart and badly crushing the two men, who remained pinned beneath the wheels till parties arrived and rescued them.

The most enjoyable feature of the Orange meeting near Ballinacorney was to see Matthew Fox, a Catholic from beyond Shreeve, marching in the procession through the town wearing a large green sash which bore in big letters on front, "Home rule for Ireland and the land for the people." He formed the center of attraction.

HEARD REPORTS

Of Indianapolis Convention
at Meeting Monday Evening.

Thomas Dignan and Michael McDermott entertained the members of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday evening with a detailed account of the proceedings of the national convention at Indianapolis. Messrs. Dignan and McDermott not only attended the business meetings of the convention, but also participated in all the social functions, and in addition had the honor of carrying Kentucky's banner in the big street parade. The meeting of Division 4 was especially well attended, notwithstanding the warm weather, and Financial Secretary Connelly's receipts were the largest of the year.

William Mcweeney and William Hunkiller were returned to membership and the name of James O'Brien was proposed. The three Patriarchs—Patrick Kinney, Patrick Mangun and Patrick Farrell—were reported on the sick list, but none of them in a serious condition, while John Flynn and Charles Callahan were reported as entirely recovered. President Hennessy obligated James Connelly, and after "God Save Ireland" was sung, led by Dave Reilly, the meeting adjourned.

VISIT OLD HOME.

Many people in Frankfort had a warm welcome last week for Edward J. Lynch, the carpenter contractor of this city, who accompanied his brother, Dennis Lynch, formerly of this city but for several years a resident of Pittsburg, on a visit to their aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lynch, pioneer residents of the Capital City. For several years Dennis Lynch was on the Courier-Journal, and it is expected he will visit here before returning to the Smoky City.

PICTURES AT HOPKINS.

Hopkins Theater continues to be the mecca for lovers of moving pictures, as was attested by the crowded houses each day and night this week. For next week Manager Dust has secured new films that are amusing and interesting, and the programme will equal any seen here this season. The popularity of this picture show increases more and more each day, as it surpasses in every way any yet seen in Louisville.

New Yorkers.

British Snobbery Has Caused

Even Children Were Victims of Spleen of the Angry

COMMISSIONER SULLIVAN'S SAY

New York and New Yorkers are preparing a glorious welcome for the American athletes who showed their prowess in the field and track games at the recent Olympian contest in London. Efforts are being made to bring them all home together, but it is probable that some have completed arrangements for a trip to France and Norway, while others have arranged to contest with crack athletes in Ireland. Whenever they arrive, whether in groups, individually or all together, New York sportsmen will bid them a hundred thousand welcomes home. President Roosevelt, who is honorary President of the American Athletic Association, under whose auspices the strong men went abroad, has signified his intention to take part in the reception. The Mayor has consented to turn the keys of the city over to the returning victors. If the plan for the whole body to return together is consummated there will be a mammoth street parade, followed by a banquet in the city hall.

Of course the Irish element in New York will have a large share in welcoming home the visitors, since Sheridan, Sheppard, Flanagan, Hayes, Bacon and other star performers are members of the now celebrated Irish-American Athletic Club of New York. Besides the Irish in America love these athletes for the enemies they have made in England. They submitted to humiliation and injustice at the hands of the British officials, athletes and their supporters, but even then defeated the English competitors overwhelmingly. The Americans made 114½ points, more than all the other countries combined, while the Englishmen, or as they are now terming themselves the representatives of the United Kingdom, made only 66½ points.

One sample of English snobishness shows how ill-tempered the Britishers got when their representatives were beaten. On the occasion of the final in the 200 meter race an American girl, thirteen years old, was seated with her mother in one of the stands overlooking the stadium. When Carpenter came in first she cheered heartily. An Englishman seated near the child shouted at her: "You had better save your screams for later on."

Then, too, snobishness was shown in presenting the medals and trophies to the victors. There was a brilliant show of uniforms, but the ceremonies were not as imposing as if the English athletes had been the victors.

Even the London newspapers realize that instead of cementing friendly relations between England and other nations, the result of the Olympian games has been exactly the reverse. James E. Sullivan, the American Commissioner of the games, makes this emphatic statement:

"The Olympian games have not improved the friendly relations of America and England from an athletic standpoint. The governing bodies will be apart in the future, it is a pity that the Amateur Athletic Association had control of the games. It should not have been necessary for America to have been protesting and protesting, and put in a position where letters were necessary every day. It looked as though the officials of the Amateur Athletic Association wanted to control everything themselves, and would not take other countries into their confidence. They were working under the old customs, and thought those the best."

"In the first place the programme was badly arranged. Instead of concluding one event the officials took up another race. This prevented them from taking part in more than one race. They should have gone through the heats, the semi-finals, and the final of one race before starting the heats of another race. They were incompetent to enter could have started a contest. In fact it was entirely too big a proposition for the men handling it, and they would not look anywhere for help."

DELMONT CLUB

Will Give Annual Outing at Superb Country Place.

The Delmont Club will have its annual outing at the country home of Gustave N. Lortz, on the River road, tomorrow afternoon. This popular organization has sent out hundreds of invitations requesting its friends to go out and enjoy in breath of the finest of fresh river air and the breeze under the trees. All are asked to come empty handed and to bring a good appetite.

Visitors are instructed to take Prospect cars to the Club station. The cars leave Third and Jefferson five minutes after each hour and half hour. On alighting from the car a walk of three blocks will take one to the grounds. All sorts of games will be provided for men, women and children, and handsome prizes will be awarded the winners. An elaborate menu has been provided, and there will be no expense for anyone on the grounds to be either hungry or thirsty.

out a permit and will at once begin the erection of a building on Story avenue that will cost in the neighborhood of $35,000. The new building will take the place of that portion of the Oertel brewery that was destroyed by fire, and its construction means much for labor, as a large force of men will be given employment. Upon all sides are heard words of praise for the enterprise of the Oertel Brewery Company.

FORTY HOURS.

Beginning with the high mass tomorrow morning the Forty Hours' devotion will open at Holy Cross church, Thirty-second and Broadway, and continue until Tuesday. Every arrangement has been perfected for an attendance that will through the handsome little church.

COMES OUT EARLY.

Martin J. Niles, of 2429 West Chestnut street, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for member of the Board of Aldermen. For years he has been prominent in business circles and interested in the city's advancement. Besides being one of the most popular Democrats in the West End, Mr. Niles has an extensive acquaintance and following all over the city.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Eunice Coward, widow of the late Joseph Coward, and a woman highly respected, passed suddenly away at an early hour Tuesday morning at the home of her niece, Miss Nora Hamilton, 1526 West Walnut street, leaving a wide circle of friends and relatives who mourn her death. Her funeral took place Wednesday morning from the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Patrick Walsh officiating at the solemn obsequies.

The deaths of Mrs. Mary Smith, beloved wife of Edward Smith, which occurred Sunday night at her home, 1016 Sixth street, was a shock to her many friends and relatives. Mrs. Smith was a devout member of St. Mary's church, always ready to assist her neighbors in sickness and distress, and her death is widely mourned. Her funeral took place Wednesday morning, and was largely attended.

Andrew Oakleaf, an aged and popular resident of the West End, died Monday afternoon at his residence, 2610 Main street, after an illness lasting eighteen months. Deceased was a member of the Catholic Knights of America and the Catholic Knights of Lads. He is survived by his wife and daughter, who have the sympathy of a wide circle of acquaintances. The funeral services were held Thursday morning at St. Cecilia's church, when Father Murray celebrated the mass of requiem.

After an illness of two years, borne with patience and Christian fortitude, Mrs. Elizabeth Buzza, aged forty-eight, passed to eternal rest Monday afternoon at her residence, 3602 Rudd avenue. Deceased was the wife of Louis Fosse, of the No. 14 engine company, and is survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Buzza, Mrs. Irene Woodring and Miss Edna Fosse. For years Mrs. Fosse had been a communicant of the Church of Our Lady, and her death is mourned throughout the parish. The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Church of Our Lady, the celebrant of the solemn mass of requiem and paying a fitting tribute to the worth of the deceased.

For Benefit of Poor Souls.

LOUISVILLE CHURCHES ENJOY IT

This afternoon and until sunset tomorrow the faithful all over the world will take advantage of the Portiuncula indulgence. This indulgence can be gained as many times as the person visits the prescribed churches and complies with the required conditions. First of all the person seeking the indulgence must receive the sacraments of penance and Holy Eucharist. These sacraments may be received in any church, but the visits must be made to one of the churches designated to grant the indulgence.

All Franciscan churches enjoy this privilege, and other churches obtain it by special indulgence from time to time. In Louisville this indulgence may be gained at St. Boniface's, St. Joseph's, St. Anthony's and St. Peter's, all churches conducted by Franciscan Fathers, and St. Mary Magdalen's, St. Martin's and St. Vincent de Paul's, by special privilege. The who had received the indulgence this morning can begin to gain the indulgence during the middle of this afternoon, and can gain it repeatedly as often as they wish until sundown tomorrow evening. The indulgence is applicable to the souls in purgatory.

Portiuncula, literally translated, means little door, and is a nickname for the Church of St. Mary of the Angels, at Assisi, Italy. The name came from the small door in the church. It was one of three churches at or near Assisi repaired by St. Francis, founder of the Franciscan order. Here, according to tradition, Our Saviour appeared to St. Francis in the year 1221, and "bade him go to the Pope, who would give a plenary indulgence to all sincere penitents who should devoutly visit this church."

Two years later, Pope Honorius III, at the request of St. Francis, granted the indulgence, which became commonly known in Italy as the pardon of Assisi, confining it to August 2 and to the church of the Portiuncula, Gregory XV, in 1622, extended it to all churches of the Observant Franciscans between first vespers and sunset August 2. In 1678 Innocent XI, in favor of the same churches, allowed the indulgence to be applied to the relief of the souls in purgatory.

Year by year the custom of gaining these indulgences increases, and in the churches which hold these privileges there are continual streams of the faithful passing in and out from the middle of the afternoon of August 1 until the sun sets on the following day.

This is the first year that St. Vincent de Paul's church has enjoyed the privilege of the Portiuncula.

COSTLY CHURCH

Will Be Dedicated Tomorrow With Big Military Parade.

Tomorrow at Shelbyville, Ind., the handsome new St. Joseph's Catholic church, which will stand as an enduring monument to the energy and zeal of Rev. Father Adelrich Kaelin and his devoted congregation, will be dedicated with imposing ceremonies and a grand military parade. The committee in charge of the arrangements has made every preparation for the entertainment of the large crowd which is expected the dedication will bring to the city on special trains from Louisville, Indianapolis, Madison, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. Dinner will be served in the spacious basement of the new church, which has been converted into a well equipped dining hall for the occasion. Nearly twenty commanderies of the Knights of St. John, one of which will be St. Edmond of New Albany, will participate in the military parade, which will be one of the features of the day. Clergymen from all parts of Indiana will assist at the dedicatory services, and also all the Catholic societies of Shelbyville.

EVERYBODY SATISFIED.

The Milwaukee base ball team will play their last game of the season on the Colonel's grounds this afternoon, and tomorrow the Kansas City Blues will begin their closing series of four games. Capt. Jimmy Burke will endeavor to take the series from his old team-mates, and judging from the article of ball shown by the locals lately should find no trouble in doing so. The Louisville team has a splendid chance for the pennant, and base ball just now is the popular topic of the day and the town has the fever had, the old time fans, the latter-day fans and all are attending the games, showing their appreciation of the team's fortunes.

Anyway, whether we land the pennant or not, everyone from President Thomas Barker down to the kid with the knothole view will be satisfied that we certainly gave them all a run for their money.

CHARITY EUCIRE.

The Southern Club will give a charity eucire at the Athletic Club building, Fifth and St. Catherine streets, on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, August 25. The afternoon game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and the evening game at 8:15 o'clock. The price of admission will be only twenty-five cents.
